

2007 American Eagle Platinum Proof and Uncirculated Coins Available July 17

July 16, 2007

WASHINGTON — The United States Mint announced today that sales of 2007 American Eagle Platinum Proof and Uncirculated Coins will begin at 12:00 noon (ET) on July 17, 2007.

The 2007 coins feature the second design in the three-year series titled, “The Foundations of American Democracy,” celebrating the Executive Branch. Designed by United States Mint Artistic Infusion Master Designer Thomas Cleveland and engraved by United States Mint Sculptor–Engraver Phebe Hemphill, the reverse design depicts a bald eagle with its wings spread wide to represent freedom with a shield at the ready to enforce the laws that guarantee those freedoms.

The obverse, designed and engraved by United States Mint Sculptor–Engraver John Mercanti, features Lady Liberty, symbolizing vigilance and faithfulness to duty. The coins are struck at the United States Mint at West Point and bear the “W” mint mark. Each coin is encapsulated in plastic and accompanied by a Certificate of Authenticity.

Pricing and mintages of the 2007 American Eagle Platinum Proof and Platinum Coins are listed below.
